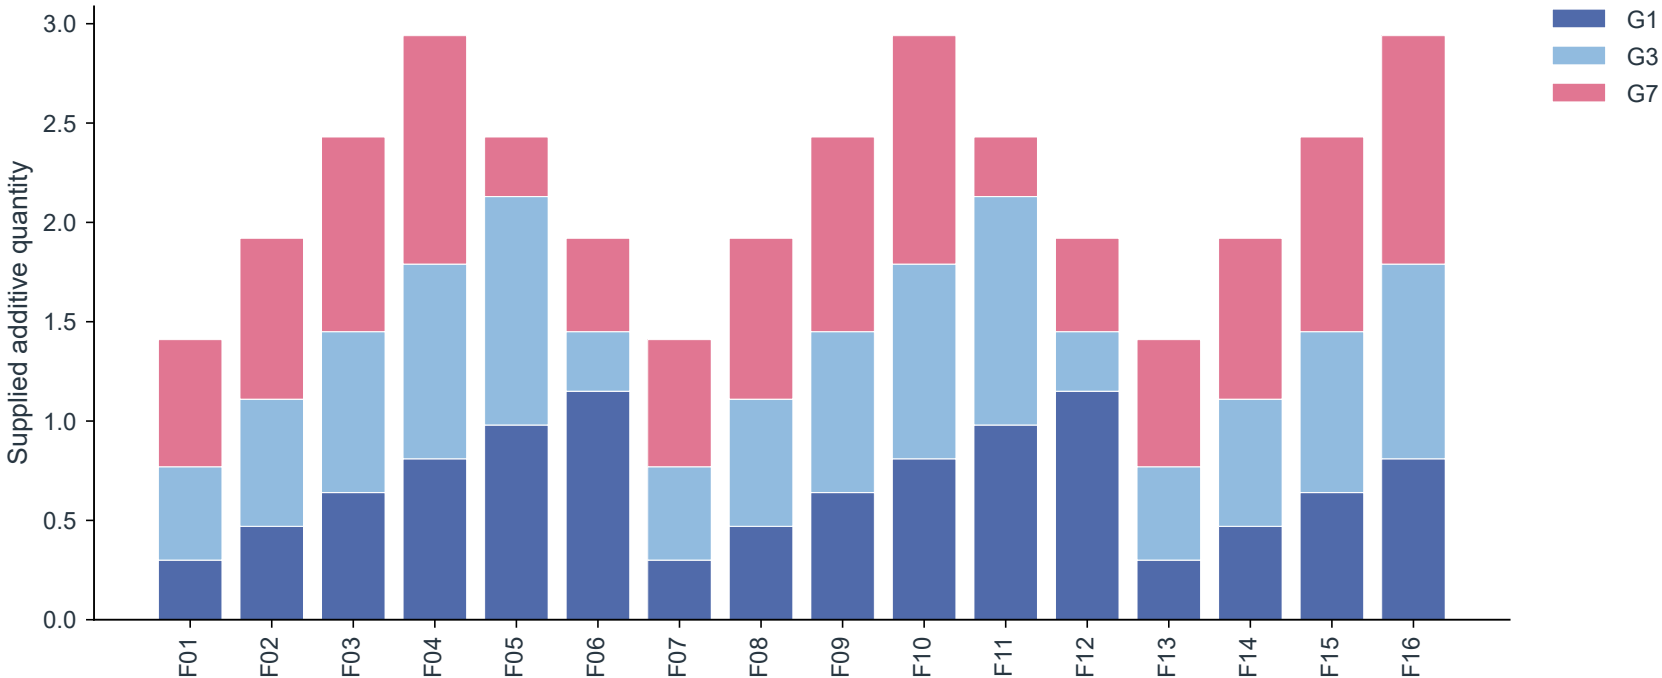
Stacked values



The same leaf IDs: component quantities
Given components share units and can be added; no normalization or binding interpretation.